

Fire drill record

Lion Risk Management Solutions — general template, version 1.0

Important Notice

This form is intended solely as a record of a fire drill. It is not a fire risk assessment, does not certify compliance, and must not be relied upon to determine whether the emergency plan is adequate. A drill exercises a plan; it cannot confirm that the plan is suitable for the premises, that the evacuation strategy is appropriate to the building, or that arrangements for people needing assistance are sufficient. Where deficiencies are identified or compliance is uncertain, advice should be obtained from a suitably competent person.

Observations — record what you saw, not what should have happened

Observation	What you saw
Alarm audibility (any area where it was not clearly heard):
Escape routes — anything obstructed, locked, or hard to use:
Fire doors — any wedged open, failing to close, or forced:
Signage and emergency lighting — anything unclear or not working:
Behaviour — anyone who delayed, collected belongings, used a lift, or returned inside:
Visitors and contractors — did they know what to do:
Assembly point — was it suitable, safe and far enough away:
Anything else:

Record of a drill only — not a fire risk assessment, and not evidence that the emergency plan is adequate. Where deficiencies are identified or compliance is uncertain, obtain advice from a suitably competent person.
